Member support is the key to the future of the Nature and Raptor Center of Pueblo. We are a non-profit organization, contributions are tax-deductible. In 2012, over 80,000 people visited the grounds, with over 13,000 participants in educational programs. Each year, over 200 injured birds of prey are cared for at the Raptor Center, giving these birds a second chance at life. Your support helps us to offer educational programs that connect people to nature as well as helping to return injured raptors to the wild to continue their important role in local ecosystems.
